

THIS OAKLAND WOMAN SELLS YOUNG GIRLS INTO SLAVERY

ENGLAND IS ASKED TO EXPRESS THANKS

British Government Is
So Directed by Its Official at Jamaica;
Uncle Sam Is Not
Disturbed Over It.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Shortly after 5 o'clock this afternoon the Colonial Office received a dispatch from Governor Swettenham asking the British Government to convey to the Government of the United States the thanks of Jamaica for the American assistance rendered by Admiral Davis.

The telegram contained no mention of the incident involving the departure of the American warships.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—
From official sources it is learned that no attention will be paid by this Government to the action of Governor Swettenham of Jamaica in asking Admiral Davis to withdraw his forces from Kingston.

It is held here that the act of the Governor is that of a single individual, for which the British Government is in no manner to be held responsible.

BEST OF MOTIVES.
LONDON, Jan. 21.—The withdrawal of the American warships
from Kingston, the Pall Mall Gazette
this afternoon says that the "language employed by Governor Swettenham would be difficult to justify in almost any circumstances."

At the same time the paper says it thinks "it is possible that a praiseworthy desire to do his utmost in the cause of humanity pushed Admiral Davis beyond the necessities of the case and led him to encroach too far upon the sphere of British authority."

The Pall Mall Gazette assumes that both the admiral and the governor were animated by the best of motives, and adds:

"Englishmen certainly do not wish the misunderstanding to be magnified in any sense of pique, and the American public ought to be broad-minded enough to regard it with the same charitable disposition."

The Westminster Gazette says there can be nothing but regret at the fact that any difficulty has arisen between Admiral Davis and Governor Swetten-ham and while awaiting a fuller explanation, adds:

"In the meantime the United States can be assured that we in this country deeply appreciate the generous, sympathetic way in which its citizens voluntarily assisted to the British colony."

CAUSES DISCUSSION.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The feature of the news from Kingston, Jamaica, today, is the declaration of Sir James Alexander Swettenham, the governor of Jamaica, to accept American aid and the departure in consequence of the American warships under command of Rear Admiral Davis.

A dispatch from Santiago today states that the cruiser Marietta, which arrived last night at Santiago, had sighted Rear Admiral Davis' ships making for Guantanamo Sunday afternoon. The vessels probably arrived Sunday night, so that official dispatches on the American report should soon be forthcoming.

ACTION DISPROVED.

Swettenham's action appears not to have met the views of the people and city officials of Kingston.

It is reported that the city council met after the incident, became known, promptly disapproved the governor's action and not only sent a letter of reproach to Rear Admiral Davis, but asked him to reconsider his decision to leave, and to remain with the American ships, as every aid was still urgently needed.

Davis replied that he had no alternative but to go in accordance with the desire of the constituted authorities.

DR. E. H. WOOLSEY IS SUMMONED TO HIS FINAL REST

The Late Dr. E. H. Woolsey

Eminent Physician Passed Away at the Metropole Hotel This Morning.

Dr. Elliott H. Woolsey, a physician of eminence and national fame and for many years one of the most notable figures in Oakland, professional and political life, died this morning at the Hotel Metropole, which had been his home for years, of pneumonia after a brief illness. He was seized with pneumonia last Friday, and in a few hours his condition became alarming. From the first the case was a desperate one, and in spite of the efforts of a group of eminent physicians, spurred on by ties of friendship as well as professional pride, the patient continued to sink,
and passed away this morning.

FRIENDS WERE NEAR.

Dr. O. D. Hamilton, the physician in charge, and two nurses were the only persons at his bedside when the end came. Samuel Bell McKee, Dr.
Woolsey's attorney, saw him shortly before the end. Former Congressman Warren B. English and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Clough, long counted among Dr. Woolsey's most intimate friends, were in the hotel, but were forbidden to enter the patient's room
by the doctor's orders, as Dr. Woolsey was unconscious for some hours before his death.

HOLD A CONSULTATION.

Drs. D. D. Crowley and Frank Adams assisted Dr. Hamilton in the case, and yesterday Dr. Fisher, an eminent specialist, was called into consultation by the three other physicians. It was agreed at the consultation that everything had been done that would aid the sufferer, and that the chance of recovery was exceedingly slight. The friends and physicians of Dr. Woolsey were therefore prepared for the sad news when the final summons came this morning.

NOTABLE CAREER.

Dr. Woolsey was born in Monroe county, near Rochester, N. Y., in 1848, and was therefore in his sixty-fourth year. He was educated at Hamilton College and served as a surgeon in the regular army during the civil war, developing early in his career a skill and knowledge in surgery that gave him a widespread reputation.
Later in life he devoted profound study to therapeutics and the causes, cure and prevention of zymotic diseases.

He read many masterly essays on these topics before medical associations, and was a frequent contributor to medical and surgical journals. He gave years of patient examination to electricity as a curative agent, and made a series of experiments with rabbits and guinea pigs that attracted the favorable attention of distinguished specialists the country over.

PAPERS WERE MODELS.

His papers on pathology and surgical operations were models of clearness and perspicacity. Despite his eccentricities his enormous capacity for work and his power of analysis caused him to be recognized as a man of brilliant mind, whose professional opinion was to be highly prized.

Shortly after the close of the civil war Dr. Woolsey came to California, beginning the practice of his profession in Oroville, when Senator Perkins was a resident of that place.

In 1873 he came to Oakland, and immediately took rank as one of the foremost medical experts in the State.
His practice grew rapidly and he speedily became noted all over the Coast as a man of research and originality. He was a familiar figure at meetings of the State Medical Association, and never failed to have something to say that was both new and instructive. In all the discussions of that body he played a large and forceful part, holding himself independent of tradition and routine methods, and frequently advancing revolutionary theories based upon his own study and practice.

His positive convictions never wavered from a conclusion dictated by his professional judgment.
His report on the sanitary conditions prevailing in Oakland made while he was acting as health officer in 1880, drew forth a warm commendation
from the "Scientific Engineer," a technical magazine printed in New York.

He often read papers before the San Francisco Microscopical Society of which he was a member, papers giving the results of his experiments.

HELD POSITIONS.

At different times Dr. Woolsey was president of the State Medical Association, health officer of Oakland and member of the Oakland Board of Health. For several years he con-

DEFEAT FOR RUEF AND SCHMITZ' APPEAL

Application for a Writ of Habeas Corpus Is Denied the Accused
by Supreme Court;
No Argument Made.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—The attorneys for Abraham Ruef and Mayor Schmitz were defeated in the Supreme Court today in the hearing of their application for a writ of habeas corpus by means of which they hoped to end the proceedings before Judge Dunne on the indictments.

Although court took an adjournment at noon until 2 o'clock p. m., at which time the decision will be rendered, it was acknowledged by the attorneys that the decision of the court would be against them; in fact, so sure of this were they that they promptly made application for a writ of error to the United States Supreme Court, which was denied without argument.

When the case opened Francis J.
Heney offered the sheriff's return and a "supplicatory" return, in which it was shown that the sheriff's custody was made for the purpose of applying for the writ.

Attorney Campbell for Schmitz objected strongly to the introduction of this showing but the court denied the motion and Campbell then asked for a continuance in order to make a showing in his application for a writ of error. The court refused Heney addressed the court as follows:

PRESENT IN COURT.
The petitioner in this case is present in court. Why not put him on the witness stand and if he denies that he surrendered himself solely for the purpose of the writ, then that will end the matter for all time."

At this Campbell declared that he preferred to conduct the case in his own way, but in the course of his argument he made the admission that the petitioner surrendered himself for the purpose of getting a speedy trial.

Justice Angellotti voiced the opinion of the court by exclaiming:
"Then you admit the charge of the district attorney that the surrender was not made in good faith?"

Schmitz was in court wearing a black frock coat. He was not present. Heney had the assistance of Indicator Attorney Langdon, Hiram Johnson, Rudolph Spreckels and J. J.
Dwyer.

At the conclusion of the hearing
Heney declared that he could be no doubt that the court would deny the mayor's application.

LANE PROBING GREAT MERGER

The Commissioner Faces Distinguished Railway Officials in Seattle.

SEATTLE, Jan. 21.—Franklin K. Lane,
United States States Interstate Commerce
Commissioner, faced a distinguished assembly of railroad officials this morning at 10 o'clock when he opened an inquiry into the Harriman merger and the car shortage in the Northwest.

The case for the government is in the hands of C. A. Sovereign, of St. Paul, J.
C. Stubbs is here on a special train of four cars to look out for the Harriman end of the fight. He has with him Judge Levin, of Oakland, one of the nation's personal counsel, and W. W. Cotton of Portland, Harriman's Northwestern adviser, and F. Dunne, attorney for the Southern Pacific at San Francisco. Attorneys and high traffic officials of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern are present.

A dozen attorneys appeared for the various defendant railroads. The first half hour was taken up in a discussion between Mr. Protty and the attorneys as to the method of procedure and as to what testimony should be admitted.

George J. Kindel was the first witness called. His testimony was a technical expose of rates on cotton-pile goods or other commodities, illustrated by diagrams and maps, showing the discrimination against Denver.

HER HOPE OF FREEDOM IS AGAIN DARKENED BY DELAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Mrs.
Cordelia Botkin, convicted of the murder by poison of Mrs. Deane and Mrs.
Dunning, at Dover, Del., will have to wait three months longer before getting an opportunity of having her case reviewed by a higher court. Ever since her conviction she has been making an effort to have the sentence of life imprisonment set aside and the case was to have been laid in the Appellate Court today, but by agreement of the attorneys the hearing was put over until the next calendar, which will be fully three months hence.

After the earthquake, Mrs. Botkin who had been kept in the county jail pending the decision of the Appellate Court in the case, was taken, at her own request, to the state penitentiary at San Quentin because she feared for her personal safety and was obliged to dispense with some of the comforts
she had enjoyed at the county prison.

RICH WIDOW THREATENED BY BLACKMAILING LETTERS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21.—Mrs. Jas.
Maler, widow of the late wealthy meat packer of this city, has recently received several letters threatening her life and demanding payment of various sums of money as much as $1000, and James Lauer, a former employe on the Majestic ranch at Glendale, is under arrest at the city police station charged with being the author of the letters.
Mrs. Maler refuses to discuss the matter, but it is understood that after receiving several threatening letters, which were gradually more insistent and menacing, she notified the police and the latter quickly took Lauer into custody.

According to the police, Lauer has written similar letters to many prominent Eastern people demanding money.

Among these are David Moffatt of Denver, president of the Moffatt road.
Several wealthy residents of New York City have also been threatened by Lauer, it is said.

It is thought that Lauer's mind is unbalanced over religion. He is about forty years of age.

Employs Maidens at a Small Salary and Then Asks Them to Become Immoral, Is the Charge of Minister

Vice in Oakland and the needs for better condition of affairs were discussed last evening in an exceptionally strong sermon preached by Rev. E.
R. Dille, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church.

Mr. Dille openly charges representative men of Oakland with leasing property owned by them for immoral purposes, and says that there is at least one proprietor of a millinery store in this city who advises the girls employed in the establishment to sell their virtue, as the wages paid them are not sufficient to support them. Dr. Dille said in part:

"Tonight I invoke the awakened and aroused public spirit of Oakland on behalf of the moral as well as the material interests of our city. For the changed conditions that confront us here are accompanied with grave dangers, with a state of things that is a menace to every home and every youth in the city.

When one-third of San Francisco moved over here the tendency was that it should be that third of San Francisco nearest to us—Darkest San Francisco; the Barbary Coast; the tenderloin; Chinatown; the redlight district; the reeking slums.

FEAR FOR HOMES.

"Why look at it! Today the Oriental quarter of Oakland has quadrupled in area and population, and we are in danger of having transplanted bodily to our city of homes and churches
the unspeakable vices that made old Chinatown an ulcer, poisoning the life blood of the city.

DENS OF VICE.

"We have the great buildings down here in Second, Allice, Harrison and Jackson streets, covering about a block, which have a thin veneer of shops and stores outside, but within is a 'Veshiware,' or colony of Japanese slave women and a nest of gambling dens. These places are owned or leased by a syndicate of white men, who sublet the cribs and gambling dens for what one of them calls 'big money,' the crime renting for $30 a month.

The names of the lessees of these buildings (who sublet them to Chinese, who use them for immoral purposes)
are George W. Johnson, Dr. Theodor Olmsted and Ben F. Woolner. Mr.
Woolner disavows all responsibility for the use made of the building of which he is a lessee, claiming that by the terms of his lease, innocently drawn,
he is unable to oust or discharge the pans and gambling dens.

FINE LEGAL POINT.

"That is a fine legal point upon which I am unable to pass, but I suggest that if Mr. Woolner cannot get rid of his undesirable tenants our city authorities can close the gambling dens and wipe out the colony of pre-dictates, one hundred of whom have come to Oakland and colonized here since the fire. And we propose that this town shall be too hot to hold so-called prominent citizens who are exploiting vice for 'big money.'

"I tell you there is being quickly brought across the bay the very dens of vice that used to line the streets with filthy purloins of the Barbary Coast, where, amid clouds of tobacco and fumes of stale beer, schools of young men and brazen-faced women
met. Already as darkness settles down upon our city at nightfall vice creeps forth from its dens, and foul vermin crawl through the streets.

"And midnight down there is half a midnoon; there every passion finds a tempter; there is spread the banquet of Bacchus; there is heard the sigh of glasses and the click of the gambler's table. There Delilah spreads her net and snags the young Samson of life strength; there around the cabaret and cigar store entrances hang the prom-

TRAIN WRECK DELAYS MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK

Noted Opera Singer Arrives, However, in Time to Sing in Berkeley Theater.

Madame Schumann-Heink, the opera singer, was delayed on her way to California by three railroad wrecks. She arrived last evening, however, and was able to sing at the American theater in San Francisco. The afternoon concert of course had to be postponed.

The train wrecks were slight accidents in which no one was hurt, but progress was blocked and those waiting to hear the famous contralto were disappointed.

"We left Spokane last Tuesday," said Madame Schumann-Heink's manager, "and all along we have been delayed by snowdrifts, washouts and wrecks. The first mishap occurred near Winnemucca, when one of the drive wheels on the engine of our train came off. The train was brought to a standstill before any serious injury resulted. We were then delayed at Summit by the wreck of a freight train ahead of us. The wreck this morning near Summit was the most serious. Aside from a short fright caused by the suddenness of the plunging of her car into the embankment, Madame Schumann-Heink did not suffer."

Madame Schumann-Heink sang this afternoon at the Greek theater before a crowd of society and musical people that numbered into the thousands. An orchestra of sixty pieces under the leadership of J. Fred Wolfe, head of the department of music at the university, accompanied the singer in some of her best work.

THREE SUICIDES ON SUNDAY

Two End Lives in This City and One Over in the Town of Livermore.

There were three suicides in this county yesterday, two in Oakland and one in Livermore. In the three instances the desperate persons used pistols to blow out their brains. There were two men and one woman in the trio, and they were Dr. Otto Ph. Mantz of 860 Clay street, B. Sarguhron of Livermore and Mrs. Clara Price of 41 Wayne avenue.

Mrs. Price, who had been suffering from chronic stomach troubles for ten years, ended her life about 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning in her bedroom, sending a bullet from a 38-caliber revolver, crashing through her brain. The bullet entered the right temple and death was instantaneous.

The shooting took place while Mrs. Price's husband, W. H. Price and her brother-in-law, John M. Price, were in the rear yard. The desperate woman arose from her bed, opened her husband's pistol and killed herself. The remains were found by the husband, who ran upstairs upon hearing the pistol report.

Deceased was forty-two years of age and a native of Ireland. Her ill-health was supposed to have caused her to end her life.

Dr. Mantz killed himself in the lavatory of the Astor House, at 860 Clay street, where he had been residing for some time. Mantz used a 38-caliber automatic Colt's revolver, the bullet entering his head above the nose. The body was found yesterday morning about eight o'clock by Mrs. J. W. Tucker, proprietress of the Astor House, who notified the police. It is thought that Mantz killed himself owing to financial troubles. Deceased was fifty-two years of age and a native of Germany.

B. Sarguhron shot himself in his lodging-house in Livermore. The suicide was a clerk in the town. He ended his life while suffering from an attack of melancholia. Sarguhron was twenty-eight years of age.

ATTEMPT TO ROB BAKERY

Policeman Carroll Foils Efforts of Thugs by a Volley of Shots.

A daring attempt was made to rob the Log Cabin Bakery at Thirty-third and San Pablo avenue about 1:20 o'clock yesterday morning, but the plan was frustrated by Policeman J. H. Carroll after a volley of shots had been exchanged. Carroll was patrolling his beat on San Pablo avenue, when he noticed a man scuffling in front of the Log Cabin Bakery. He aroused his suspicions as he started across the street to investigate, the man ran to the front door and gave the alarm.

Immediately two men rushed out, and the three started to run down the street, with Carroll after them. The officer opened fire when the robbers disregarded his cries to halt. At Third and Fifth streets, the men turned, and a volley of shots was returned. The policeman's fire was effective, however, and the three men made their escape in the darkness. The bakery had been entered by a rear window. Nothing was stolen the robbers apparently having just gained access.

MYSTERIOUS THEFT OF TEACHER'S NOTES

BERKELEY, Jan. 21.—The theft of valuable scientific notes from J. C. Bradley, laboratory assistant in city, was ruled on a San Bernardino street car will cause the etymological department considerable trouble. Bradley had been working for many weeks among the orange orchards of the southern part of the State on investigations to show the relative importance of parasitic insects cyanide fumigation in the control of scale insects of the orange. His investigation had been embodied in these notes which he had placed in a small suitcase.

Bradley was about to leave for home when the suitcase was stolen. As a result of the theft the work done by Mr. Bradley will have to be entirely repeated.

MAN'S DEATH IS DUE TO EXPOSURE

An inquest into the death of Robert Thompson, a race track follower who died on January 17, on Stanford and San Pablo avenues, was held yesterday afternoon. The coroner's jury returned the verdict that death was due to exposure, and from the testimony rendered, it was learned that had proper assistance been given him, his life might have been saved.

Thompson had been drinking the night before he died and lay down on the sidewalk on the rain remaining the all night. He was found in the morning by passers-by who placed him in a doorway, where he died soon afterward.

W.A. DONALDSON WILL NOT RUN

Seventh Warder Will Retire From the City Council.

Councilman W. A. Donaldson, who represents the Seventh ward in the City Council, will not be a candidate for reelection. He is contemplating a trip East on important business and this, in addition to his business interests here, will prevent him from giving the time to the office that he thinks should be given by a public official.

Councilman Donaldson has made an excellent public official and has given much of his time to the public interests of the city. He has been active in his duties and has been a conscientious official.

MRS. ANNA MUELLER'S FUNERAL IS HELD

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Mueller, who died on Thursday at her home in this city from apoplexy, was held yesterday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Thiese presiding. Many friends attended the funeral, and the floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. Deceased was a prominent member of the German colony in this city. Interment was in Mountain View Cemetery.

Prior to the opening of our new building in the burned district we opened two small stores, one at 1341 Golden Gate avenue, near Fillmore street, and one at 1466 Bush street, near Van Ness avenue. Having no room except for our new regular samples, all exchanges are being shipped to our Oakland wholesale rooms. These are the largest in Oakland. If you will take the trouble to go six blocks you can see for yourself the exceptional opportunities that are offered.

TRIBUNE CONTEST--VOTE FOR YOUR FRIEND

ducted in this city one of the largest private hospitals in California. It was burned, however, and was never rebuilt. Dr. Woolsey retiring gradually from active practice after his hospital was destroyed. He was for many years the surgeon of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and founded and conducted for a number of years a free clinic.

Dr. Woolsey was noted for the tenacity of his friendship and the intensity of his friendships and the intensity made him an earnest champion and an equally vigorous and active antagonist. His controversies were numerous and often acrimonious, though Dr. Woolsey for all his brusque ways and saltness of speech was a man of warm heart and generous impulses. But his scented battle like a warhorse, and loved the excitement of the fray. He frequently wrote biting articles for the press, discussing local affairs. Of late years his temper has been toned down, and he forgot and forgave old enemies.

AN ARDENT DEMOCRAT.

Dr. Woolsey was an ardent Democrat, and was for many years in close personal and political affiliation with party leaders like William D. English, W. W. Foote, Frank J. Moffitt and M. F. Tarpey. He turned Republican a few years ago, however, casting his first Republican vote for his old professional friend and political enemy, George C. Pardee. But he took little interest in partisan politics of late years, voting principally as personal predilection dictated.

GREAT TRAVELER.

Dr. Woolsey was a great traveler and several years ago made a tour of Japan, China and the Philippines. He had an ambition, never realized, to travel all over the world, staying in each country long enough to study the diseases peculiar to the climate and conditions of each, and the pursuits and social habits of the people, together with the remedies found most efficacious. His object was to write a medical encyclopedia, giving the causes of disease and the remedies practiced by the best thought of the age. His plans were never carried out, though he had collected a large quantity of material for his proposed work. Of late years he suffered much from rheumatism, and withdrew himself largely from active life. He was a constant theatergoer, however, and was generally to be seen near the front when anything good was on the boards.

WEALTHY MAN.

Dr. Woolsey died a wealthy man, his estate being valued at between three and four hundred thousand dollars. It is mainly in Oakland real estate. What disposition he made of his property is known only to his attorney, Sam Bell McKee, who drew his will prior to his last visit to the Hawaiian Islands, and will probably have charge of it in probate.

Dr. Woolsey leaves two brothers and a sister, residing at Egypt, near Rochester, New York, but no children. He was married in this city to Helen McKilvray many years ago, but the couple soon separated and were divorced. Mrs. Woolsey was living somewhere in the East at last accounts.

John R. and Lorenzo are the names of Dr. Woolsey's brothers. His sister is named Martha.

Dr. Woolsey was a member of Live Oak Lodge, F. and A. M., Oakland Lodge, 171, B. P. O. E., and of the Athenian Club. In his prime he was exceedingly fond of club life, but practically eschewed it of late years. His principal recreation was riding horseback and attending the theater.

The time of the funeral has not yet been fixed. Mr. McKee has notified the relatives in the East, and will be governed by their wishes as to the disposition of the remains. During his life Dr. Woolsey frequently expressed a desire that his body be cremated.

FIVE REVOLVERS STOLEN BY BOYS

A show window in the store of Sam Clegier at 106 Seventh street, West Oakland, was broken early yesterday morning, and five revolvers stolen. The thieves, three in number, are believed to be youths residing in the neighborhood. Policeman J. J. Fenton and Detectives Kyle and McSorley arrested two young men yesterday who answered the description given by Clegier and they are being held at the police station pending an investigation.

A number of other thefts have been reported to the police. John Carberry, connected with Mme. Cohn's laundry on Franklin street reports that thieves broke into his stable Saturday night and stole two bridles and a buggy robe. A quantity of tools were stolen from J. A. McCall of 522 Telegraph avenue, and also from James Wilson, of 3839 Milton street. Wilson's tools were left by him at 212 San Pablo avenue, and taken from there by the thieves.

Burchell & Crowley, of 1313 Broadway, report that thieves entered a new house at 1309 Franklin street Saturday night, and stole a quantity of lead pipe and fittings.

The room of C. Stohl in a lodging house at Seventh and Washington streets was entered, and two quilts, a razor, several pillows and wearing apparel valued at $45 were stolen.

SUPERVISORS TRANSACT BUSINESS OF THE COUNTY

Piedmont Election Is Again an Issue Before Board—Routine Matters Handled.

At the opening of the Board of Supervisors this morning, when the clerk concluded the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, Supervisor Rowe rose to correct the record of the vote on the bills ordered paid at the session.

"H. D. Rowe," he said, "votes aye on all claims audited by him. H. D. Rowe votes No on all claims not audited by him," and he desired to have the record of the board make that showing.

President Mitchell—The record does make that showing.

PIEDMONT BALLOT.
Supervisor Rowe introduced a resolution to cover a defect which occurred in the form of the ballot to be used at the Piedmont incorporation election. He said that in the blank space provided for the expression of the voter's wish on the proposal of incorporation, the two words "For" and "Against" were inadvertently omitted, it being left to the voter to supply the words in writing. The new form of ballot offered supplied what had been previously omitted, and the voter could express his preference by using the stamp in the space opposite "For incorporation," or in that opposite "Against incorporation."

President Mitchell—I don't know how that resolution may affect the proceedings already taken. It may invalidate all that has been done by us. I would like to hear from the lawyers representing the Piedmonters.

Mr. Dunn, representing the advocates of incorporation, assured the board that the adoption of the resolution would not put the previous action taken by the board in jeopardy. It was deemed necessary to avoid the possibility of mistakes being made by the voter in writing in the blank space how he voted.

Mr. Rowe did not think it would affect the previous proceedings in any respect, the adoption of the resolution and Mr. Bridge seconded it. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT.
County Surveyor Haviland reported that the Ransome Construction Company have excavated to date (January 19), under their contract with Alameda county, dated September 19, 1904, for the construction of county road No. 333.

125,065 cubic yards previously allowed at $36..... 45,023.40

Amount due this month estimate.....$3,341.52
Total amount of work done on said contract, $197,893.28.

Total amount paid, including this estimate, $183,268.83.

RAILROAD AVENUE.
G. Baldwin, H. F. Thorp, E. F. Van Alstine, E. Cords Jr., P. R. Thomas, W. C. Allen, H. D. Dunn, J. P. Behrmann, J. L. Dumontier, J. Motier, Charles Emming, A. Frantzen, J. H. Goodrich, Barbara Bremer, Charles P. Pies, E. C. Hoffman, Louis Punt, John Schmitt, Fred Von Duren, S. Pollet, C. E. Brown represented "that railroad avenue, between San Leandro road and the old county road, is a street seventy feet wide, fully sewered and has been accepted as a street by the county of Alameda; that it is one of the main thoroughfares leading from Fruitvale in the country tributary to the Redwood road, and is, therefore, the avenue of ingress and egress for considerable traffic in either direction, that both frontages of said Redwood road are numerous built up with the homes of the undersigned, that the roadway of the said Railroad Avenue is now in bad condition, full of holes, and is, therefore, dangerous and detrimental to travel both on foot and by vehicle."

The petitioners, therefore, asked that the avenue be macadamized with rock. Referred to Supervisor Bridge.

DUMBARTON RECLAMATION.
The hearing of the petition of the Dumbarton Company for a special district was continued for hearing until next Monday.

NEW MAPS FILED.
The clerk was authorized by resolution to endorse on a map of Map No. 1, of the Monte Vista Terrace, submitted by George H. Hayes, and signed by George H. Hayes, the non-acceptance of the roads, alleys, or highways as offered by said map.

The same course was adopted in regard to a map of Athens Park, submitted by Jesse H. Hayes.

PROTEST AGAINST A SALOON LICENSE.
The following desired to have their names erased from the application of Fred Scott for a saloon license at Niles, on the ground that the matter was entirely misrepresented to them: M. Palmer and Bernard Enos.

The following protested against the granting of a saloon license to Fred Scott of Niles, "on the ground that his application does not contain the proper signatures. We further assert that we constitute a part of the required number."

Edward A. Eilersworth, Mrs. Clara Snyder, M. E. Chalmers, T. Rose, H. Holmes, Joseph J. Sileria, Mary Murphy, M. Palmer, Bernard Enos.

The board named 10 30 a. m. next Monday as a time for hearing.

John E. Goody, of 1300 Fruitvale avenue, writes to the board that "owing to the fact that the crossing of Orange Grove avenue and Twenty-fourth street, Fruitvale, has been stopped up by the drifting earth down Orange Grove avenue, there is pool of water in front of my property on the northeast corner of said streets. It is not only very inconvenient, but is also dangerous, as there is water enough to drown a child if it should accidentally stumble into it."

Edward A. Chapin of Hayward informed the Board that "in making a fire on the boulevard in front of my property, located on San Lorenzo creek."

Runaway Youth Taken in Custody
ALAMEDA, Jan. 21.—Lloyd Lovell, 14 years of age, was taken into custody last night. The boy lives in Los Angeles with his parents but ran away from home over three months ago. He told the police that since that time he lived with a married brother in San Francisco but yesterday thought he would take a trip to this side of the bay.

When taken into custody the boy had a box filled with his implements of trade. Some of the tools were marked with his initials.

Stolen from Barn
ALAMEDA, Jan. 21.—U. S. Troth reported to the police this morning that a horse and a saddle had been stolen from the barn at the rear of his grocery store on Oak street. The horse and saddle disappeared last night.

A. P. Staple, whose residence is at 2500 San Jose avenue, reported the loss of a tool box filled with his implements of trade. Some of the tools were marked with his initials.

GAS AND COOL KILL FAMILY

None Left in Calgary Household to Tell of Terrible Tragedy.

CALGARY, Alberta, Jan. 21.—A tragedy, the full details of which probably never will be known, has wiped out the entire family of Edward Ferdinand, proprietor of a livery here. The police, on breaking into the house, found Ferdinand dead in bed, the dead body of a newly born infant at his side, while the dead body of Mrs. Ferdinand lay on the floor near the bed. In another bed were two young boys, still alive, but so badly injured that they died within a few hours of the tragedy. The supposition is that the family was overcome by coal gas, but the exact cause of the tragedy is still under consideration. It is a terrible tragedy to a child and died.

OBJECTIONS TO CERTAIN BILLS.
When it came to the payment of bills, Mr. Rowe said: "In order to vote intelligently on this subject I will have to heat the bills read separately." He said he would have some bills in the bag which he could not conscientiously vote for.

During the reading of the bills of Scott Bros. and Ferguson for labor and repairs were objected to by Rowe for the reason "that the repairs were not authorized by the board and were for amounts in excess of what they would be if the work had been let out by contract, and also exceeded the amount which can be lawfully spent without authorization of the board."

Supervisor Bridge—Who authorized the work to be done?

The Clerk—J. M. Kelly.

Mr. Kelly—Mr. President, I desire to ask the county expert to give this board a list of all orders given for work done on the county roads during the past fiscal year.

Mr. Mitchell—Will you be able to do it, Mr. Expert?

County Expert—If I have nothing else to do.

Mr. Rowe—You want the report to cover each road district, I suppose, Mr. Kelly?

Mr. Kelly—Yes, each road district separately.

No objection being offered the county expert was directed to prepare the report and submit it at the next meeting.

Mr. Mitchell objected to being held all day Monday to do the work which the finance committee should do on some other day.

Mr. Bridge, chairman of the committee, asked what was the custom.

Mr. Mitchell—They have been meeting on Saturday, and I would suggest, Mr. Bridge, that you call your committee together on some day except the day of the board meeting.

Supervisor Bridge—Well, I will call the committee together hereafter in accordance with the past custom.

The bills finally objected to by Rowe were as follows: Gas Consumers' Association, $4.50; ditto, $1.50; Scott Bros., for labor, $115.65; ditto, $25.10; John Ferguson, labor, paints and other materials, $201.50.

All of these bills were approved by Supervisor Kelly, and in the case of the Ferguson and Gas Consumers' Association bills, Supervisor Bridge as a chairman of the finance committee signed his approval.

The motion was then submitted for the approval of the rest of the bills in the bunch, and postpone action on those bills to which objection had been raised by Mr. Rowe.

All voted aye, except Mr. Bridge, who asked to be excused from voting on the ground that the bills were contracted before he was a member of the board.

COLLECTING FEES.
The following communication was read from District Attorney Brown relative to the right of a county officer to collect any compensation except his regular salary for services rendered this county:

Gentlemen: Replying to your request for an opinion under the following resolution from your honorable body:

"Resolved, That the District Attorney of Alameda county be requested to inform this board, as to whether or not any person under salary employed by this board, or other county official, can legally draw money from the county treasury or extra work of any kind."

"Under the county government act no county officer can receive any compensation other than that fixed for services of any kind or description rendered by him. Section 4071, Political Code, State of California; Humboldt county vs. Stern, 135 Cal. 63. County officers are held to be such officers as are created by legislative act; McDonald vs. Yuba county, 11 Cal. 424."

"Therefore, I must advise you that no person holding an office created by legislative act, and whose salary is paid by the county, can receive any extra compensation for services rendered the county."

"However, inasmuch as the words 'salary' and 'compensation' are held to be synonymous, and, inasmuch as there is a clear distinction between an office created by the legislative act and a contract made with a party to render services to the county in different ways. Consequently, in order for me to advise you as to any particular person serving the county, I must be advised as to a person holding an office created by legislative act, it would be necessary for me to know the capacity in which the person is serving the county and the exact nature of the case. Respectfully submitted,

"EVERETT J. BROWN,"
District Attorney.

Mr. Rowe said he supposed, from his understanding of the District Attorney's opinion, that county employees, or officers could not set up a claim for extra compensation unless he was specially employed to do the work by the board.

Mr. Hayes, who represented the District Attorney's office, said that it was difficult to fully cover the resolution because there was no specific case cited on which a definite opinion could be based. He said, however, that in the case of a District Attorney, Humboldt county who engaged in some litigation for the county while in office, and conducted it some time after his term expired, he put in a bill of over $1000 for the services rendered.

Mr. Rowe—Well, I suppose he had been authorized to conduct the litigation by the board.

Mr. Hayes—No, he had not been authorized. He collected the money, as the court allowed it.

No action was taken in the matter and the board adjourned until next Monday.

HORSE AND SADDLE STOLEN FROM BARN
ALAMEDA, Jan. 21.—U. S. Troth reported to the police this morning that a horse and a saddle had been stolen from the barn at the rear of his grocery store on Oak street. The horse and saddle disappeared last night.

A. P. Staple, whose residence is at 2500 San Jose avenue, reported the loss of a tool box filled with his implements of trade. Some of the tools were marked with his initials.

Kingston Merchants Fear Companies Will Not Pay Their Policies.

KINGSTON, Jan. 21.—The banks have resumed payments, but no attempt has yet been made to restart business.

The car service has been resumed from the northern boundary of the city to St. Andrews. It is expected a newspaper will be issued today.

The financial loss by the earthquake and fire is now estimated at $15,000,000. Merchants fear that the insurance companies will not pay losses because of the earthquake clause in the policies.

600 HAVE FLED TOWN

Crisis Not Yet Reached in Flood Dangers in Valley of Ohio.

SHAWNEETON, Ill., Jan. 21.—A state of conditions prevailing here was made by Mayor Kratz this morning. He stated that 600 persons have fled from the town. All residents whose homes are still inhabitable are occupying the upper stories and business is at a standstill.

"At 9 o'clock this morning the stage of the Ohio river reached 48 feet," said the Mayor. "I believe the levee which protects the city from the river will hold until the stage reaches 52 feet. If that figure is reached, we cannot tell what will happen to Shawneeton. It is impossible to say now just when the crisis will be reached. It is also impossible now to make any estimate of the loss."

FOES OF ROOSEVELT AWAIT THE RECOVERY OF TILLMAN

Lull in Attack on President Growing Out of Discharge of the Negro Soldiers.

(TRIBUNE'S "CORRESPONDENCE.")

WASHINGTON, January 21.—After a very lively day in the Senate on Monday over the discharge of the negro battalion, a lull has occurred, awaiting the recovery of Senator Tillman that he may speak on the subject. Senator Lodge undertook in defense of the President to knock out Senator Foraker's resolution calling for an inquiry by the Committee on Military Affairs, but was worsted in the encounter. The Brownsville affair and the action of the President has been so thoroughly discussed by the senior Senator from Ohio that even the President's stubbornness as he has, in the latest report is true, further acknowledged that he was wrong for it is stated that he will modify his order of discharge by eliminating the prohibition to enter the civil service of the United States. Thus far none of his foremost adherents has unflinchingly supported him in this, while many have condemned him. As the facts are unfolded it becomes more plain that the President made a grievous error, and what is more grievous still is that his error is in line with his tendency to augment the power of the executive and make it independent of the slightest kind of control. A few such errors, if not corrected, would soon land us amid what some of us were once pleased to call the "effects of manhood in Europe." But this tendency has gone far enough without restraint in becoming evident, and the latest report about the capital is that a resolution will be introduced subjecting to Congressional approval every executive order of the President. It is at this point that some control is becoming imperative necessary in view of the dangers which might otherwise overtake our institutions. But it is certain if such an effort is made, the present executive resistance to legislative action in regard to his discharge order would be nothing compared to the battle royal which would occur between the advocates of centralized power and those who believe in representative government which has made us the richest and the greatest country on earth.

JAP IMMIGRATION.
The opposition to the unrestricted immigration of Japanese is fast taking shape, and out of it will come the next great battle to be waged by the Pacific coast in behalf of its future. The entire delegation is in favor of restricting such immigration, which now amounts to over 1000 a month. But its gravity is not alone in its numbers but in the character of the immigrants. It is fast becoming recognized that the Japanese now coming to our shores are capable of being organized into a body acting under one impulse or one will, and, therefore, a menace to the communities where they reside. The California delegation in the House will take up this matter before the Committee on Foreign Affairs and will advocate exclusion. In the other chamber the Pacific coast Senators are practically unanimous on the National Geographical Society in a few weeks on "The Empire of the Paacific," which designation the Pacific Coast States and Alaska will be entitled to by reason of the vast growth which will follow the increasing commerce with the Orient, and he will point out the necessity for taking early action to preserve the American character of the States bordering on the Pacific.

Wednesday the Treasury Department decided to purchase fifty feet frontage on Montgomery street, corner of Commercial, to bring the sub-lease down to Montgomery street. These lots adjoin the present sub-lease lot on the west, and will thus give the new building a good frontage on Commercial and Montgomery streets. The Steinhart lot on the corner will be purchased for $75,000 and that adjoining known as the Josselyn lot, also of twenty-five feet frontage will cost $15,000. The money for this purchase is now available from the appropriation made at the last session of Congress of $275,000. The sum remaining for the building will therefore be a little short of $250,000. The Treasury Department is of the opinion that a good four-story building can be erected for that sum; but Edgar Palmer, who is now here, is of the opinion that a more imposing building should be erected, and is endeavoring to secure an increase in the limit of cost. He suggests $200,000 more as needed to secure a building suitable in all respects to the site and character of the structure. He has brought the matter in the House; but Congressman Kahn and Hayes. It is understood, do not look upon it with great favor, fearing that the House would not consider it in view of the appropriations already made for San Francisco. He will bring the proposition before Senator Perkins, who will give it his attention in the Senate.

BACK FROM PANAMA.
The Congressional party which sailed for Panama just before the holidays, to look over conditions at the isthmus, returned to Washington Wednesday. Among those who took the trip were Senator Flint and Congressman McKim and Knowland of California. These gentlemen express themselves as being heartily glad they have looked over the ground where the greatest of all the world's work is now under way, as they are thereby convinced that the construction of the canal will from this time forth be pushed with increasing vigor. They speak of the great but necessary work of sanitation which has been performed, thereby rendering the canal zone habitable by whites, and making it unnecessary to rely for labor upon Jamaica negroes or Chinese. In their opinion the labor problem has been solved by the importation of sturdy laborers from Spain, some of whom have been at work a year, thus giving ample time to determine their ability to work on the isthmus, and their efficiency. How great this is, is seen in the fact that they are paid twice the wages given negroes from Jamaica. It is probable that the Chinese question will not again be raised in connection with the Panama canal, for the Canal Commission is sure it will be able to secure all the laborers needed from Spain, and their efficiency has been already tested.

The break in the Colorado river and the danger impending to the Imperial valley region is again attracting the attention of the authorities in Washington. The efforts of E. H. Harriman of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company to close the break in Mexico do not seem to have been so successful as was expected, the work being of a magnitude surpassing expectation. At any rate, the Mexican government has apparently been unable to see immediate prospect that the break will be closed, and it is understood that it has notified the California Development Company, organized under Mexican laws to control that part of the canal in Mexican territory, that if the company does not bring the break under control within ten days the franchise will be cancelled. As the bonds of the whole irrigation scheme are based in part on this Mexican franchise, its revocation will work serious injury to the California Development Company. The question is mooted anew of extending national aid in closing the break, but this action is not thought to be probable in the face of the assertion that the Southern Pacific Company controls the California Development Company which would mean that an appropriation by Congress would be a gift to the railroad for the improvement of its private property. It is realized on all sides that the situation is a serious one, and that the difficulties surrounding it are too many for Congress to jump blindly into the breach with millions of dollars. If the development companies should withdraw from the field and the Southern Pacific Company refuse from the reclamation business, there might be a chance for the government to take over the whole plan and carry it out in accordance with the reclamation and irrigation laws. This, perhaps, is what will eventually occur, but in the meanwhile a great many international and other difficulties must be swept out of the way. The director of the Geological Survey states that should the government take the Imperial valley project under its control, the scheme would require $15,000,000; but he thinks the land could well stand it, as it would create a lien of not over $30 an acre, whereas, it is really worth an acre and over. The President is preparing another message on the Colorado break which will be illustrated after the manner of his message on the Panama canal. All the data available from the government and other sources has been placed in his hands. But what his attitude regarding the pending questions will be, or what recommendation he will make, there has been no hint at this time. It is known, however, that President Harriman of the Southern Pacific Company has promised to close the break, and a large force is now at work night and day to complete the work. Whatever action may be taken by the government will doubtless depend on the ability of the railroad to control the river. Even if it does, it may possibly be that a movement will be inaugurated to have the government take charge of this great irrigation scheme and take it entirely out of the hands of the railroad and development companies.

CALIFORNIAN HONORED.
Last week Congressman W. F. Englebright, representing the First Congressional district of California, was appointed by Speaker Cannon member of the very important committee on Mines and Mining. It is not only a great compliment to Congressman Englebright, but a piece of good fortune for California that the position on the committee should be so filled. Luckily when Congressman Englebright took his seat in the House of Representatives there was a vacancy on the committee caused by the fact that Congressman Williamson of Oregon, who had been appointed, had failed to qualify on account of the indictment brought against him because of the land-fraud cases in Oregon. Congressman Englebright will do good service to the coast on this committee. Ex-Governor H. H. Markham and General O. H. La Grange, governor of the Soldiers' Home at Santa Monica, have written to the delegation concerning the needs of that institution. Appropriations are requested for a quartermaster's storehouse, a dining hall and kitchen, a morgue, a pipeline, and an iron fence around the grounds, this last being needed on account of the rapid encroachment of the neighboring towns on the grounds of the Home. Already settlement is pressing upon two of the boundary lines, and a permanent fence has become a matter of necessity. Congressman McLachlan and Senator Perkins will go before the House committee and endeavor to secure the insertion of the needed appropriations in the Sundry Civil bill, and if this should not be sufficient, Senator Perkins and Senator Flint will, without doubt, have the amounts inserted when the bill gets to the Senate.

A few days ago Hon. J. G. Hamilton of New York, whose sons are interested in the Alta California Beet Sugar Company, which has established at Hamilton, near Chico, the most complete beet sugar factory in the world, wrote to Senator Perkins concerning the immediate necessity of securing permission to build a steel drawbridge across the Sacramento river at the point where the old bridge stood which was destroyed a few years ago. This bridge is for the purpose of getting the tracks of the Northern Electric Company across the river. The com-

It is a common custom for such leaders to claim to have the largest or finest or best appointed confectionery and ice cream parlors in the world, or in the West or East, or on the Atlantic or Pacific Coast—at least, somewhere "make good"? Very few, in reality, most of them fall just short of being what they claim, although excellent in their class. How about Lehnhardt's? Is there anything on the Pacific Coast that "singles up" Lehnhardt on points of general excellence? I must ask Lehnhardt about this.

pany has contracted to build from Chico to Hamilton and to have rails laid on both sides of the river by July 1st. Steel for the bridge will be delivered by May 15th, and the bridge should be finished so the road can take care of the beet crop this summer and fall. Senator Perkins at once took up the matter with the chief of engineers of the War Department, and has been informed by General McKenzie that he had immediately placed all the papers in the case in the hands of Colonel Heuer for report. He says this report may be somewhat delayed for the reason that Colonel Heuer has been summoned to "Washington, but that he is sure there will be no unnecessary loss of time.

RICH TERRITORY.
The railroad referred to is necessary for the success of the factory, as sugar beets are being grown on both sides of the river and must be taken by rail to the factory at Hamilton. Later on the Shasta Southern, which is building from Redding to Colusa, will open up a very rich territory and will supply the factory with a large amount of raw material. Very nearly $2,000,000 have been invested at Hamilton by the Alta California Beet Sugar Company, and a town modern in all respects has been built, with a $35,000 hotel, streets graded and oiled, cement sidewalks, a beautiful park, over 4000 shade trees and an irrigating ditch over thirteen miles long. There is being erected a building for a bank with $50,000 capital, large cattleyards have been completed, and all stores and dwellings are supplied with electric light. All this is what follows the best sugar industry wherever established—the erection of a modern city with thousands of busy inhabitants, dependent upon the cultivation of the beet in the large surrounding area. It is an unanswerable argument against free sugar from Cuba or the Philippines.

A few days ago Hon. Abbot Kinney of Los Angeles wrote to Senator Perkins suggesting the advisability of establishing a government biological laboratory at the Venice of America, which present unusual facilities for investigating marine life. The Senator took up the matter with Hon. George M. Bowers, commissioner of Fish and Fisheries, and today Commissioner Bowers said:

"I beg leave to call your attention to an item in the estimates of appropriations for this bureau for 1908, providing for the establishment of a fish cultural station on the Pacific coast. The proposed station, while intended primarily for the artificial propagation of the food animals of the region, could very properly serve also as a place for biological research. In the event of Congress authorizing the establishment of this station I shall, of course, take great pleasure in giving full consideration to the advantages possessed by Venke of America."

Hon. A. F. Fitzgerald, president of the Chamber of Commerce of San Luis Obispo has telegraphed to each member of the delegation resolutions favoring the Henry ranch for a camp site for army maneuvers. Should the matter come up before Congress at this session the delegation will give it hearty support.

COLD CLOSES

Lack of Fuel Oil Causes Adjournments in Two of the Departments

This morning departments one and three of the Superior Court had to adjourn owing to the cold brought about from the lack of fuel oil in the courthouse and hall of records. It was a wintry atmosphere that greeted the tribunals as they entered their court chambers this morning, and when the calendar was called there was little response, for only a few muffled voices came from the depths of overcoats.

Judge W. Ste. could not hold a trial in his court, so passed everything until heat could be secured. Judge Ellsworth found the temperature in department three too low for court proceedings and adjourned until tomorrow afternoon.

A colored woman approached him as he was stooping over to pick up the apples. She grabbed the package and concealed it under her coat and then ran away. When Graves arrived home he found that his purse had been stolen. The purse contained three $5 pieces. Some stamps con-

Better Abolish the Humbug.

737 Cameron St., East Oakland, Cal., Jan 19, 1907.

THE MODERN BLOCK (HEAD) SYSTEM

AS SOME RAILROAD COMPANIES APPEAR TO APPLY IT.

Carlyle said genius was an infinite capacity for taking pains. That many will dispute this, considering geniuses the very people who do great things without taking pains. But if we adopt Carlyle's remarks and say that keeping well implies an infinite capacity for taking care, then we shall be talking excellent good sense.

We all start life with an amused contempt for people who carry umbrellas, wear overcoats, put on rubber shoes when the streets are wet, and consider carefully what they shall eat and what they shall drink and whereabout they shall be clothed.

"I can eat anything," says the young man, "and as for catching cold, I don't know what it means. I'm as strong as a horse."

"I wish mother wouldn't always be bothering one to 'take care,'" grumbles the young girl. "I hate all this fussiness about 'keeping well.'"

But there soon comes a time when more sensible counsels prevail. The first twinges of rheumatism, the earliest preliminary symptoms of chest weakness, the knowledge that there are such things as chills on the liver and colds in the stomach—these quickly bring the despaired precautions into every-day use.

Some, it is true, go on despising them. Very likely we rather admire them for it. Breezy people who never worry about weather, never wrap up, never mind getting wet, never stop to think whether what they eat and drink will agree with them—they often contrast favorably with the more careful kind.

But pass on a few years and see what the contrast is then. The careful people are much the same as before—still careful, still pretty healthy. For the others you look in vain.

You can read their tombstones in the cemetery.

No one can be more tiresome than really fussy people, who are always thinking about their health and asking themselves, "How are we this morning?" and telling you exactly how they feel and why they feel so. But it is quite possible to display a capacity for taking care and yet not be an objectionable bore.

Early in the days of influenza a famous doctor was asked if he could give any general advice as to taking precautions against the epidemic.

He replied in these few words: "Keep your feet warm and dry."

The same is true of other ailments besides influenza. Wet feet have sown the seeds of numberless diseases; or rather, they have prepared the body to receive the disease germs.

When your feet are dry and warm you are warm all over. Your circulation is active. You feel energetic. Bad bacilli can't get a hold on you.

When your feet are cold and damp, your vital processes seem to be running at quarter speed.

Your brain is sluggish, your stomach uneasy. You shiver. You have no use for yourself. The bad bacilli see their opportunity as clearly as if you had a board up asking them to come.

If you have lived among the poor at all you must know how quickly their minds fly to shoes when they are asked what gift would be most useful to them. Shoes are a terrible problem in poor families.

Wear strong shoes yourself, then, and see if you can't find one or two poor children who need them badly.

And don't be content with strong shoes. Wear rubbers, too, in wet weather. They are quite cheap, and they will save you a great deal in doctors' bills.

If you keep your feet warm and dry you will scarcely ever be ill. If you don't you will scarcely ever be well.

(December Craftsman.)

As beautiful as it is during in conception is "The Captive Mother," one of Sinding's most striking creations. In it we have symbolized the whole tragedy of womanhood and its supreme glory—motherhood. Incomprehensibly stupid is the frequent description of this great work as the representation of "a slave mother nursing her child." It is a symbolization of woman, the nourisher of the race, bound and hampered in her noblest work by manifold limitations. Centuries of oppression and denial of freedom to develop limit and bind her. In the great Empire State of the greatest republic in history, the purest woman is still politically on a level with the vilest criminal and the most driveling imbecile.

Woman is bound to the mould of the debris of all ages—the debris of false conventions, outworn life, and useless labors. By a senseless servitude to useless things she is prevented from giving to her offspring the intelligent care which otherwise would be possible. By ties which bind her to false ideas of sex, a cruel and vain standard of sex ethics, she is doomed to nourish blindly and ignorantly the offspring which she as blindly and ignorantly bears.

If but the ties might be sundered, if womanhood unbound and free could but stand erect, how great a revolution there would be! If the countless useless things in the home, care for which enclaves the wife and mother by binding her to a ceaseless round of duties, could be swept away, does anybody doubt for a moment that the effect upon the children would be beneficent? Could we but see it, the movement for the simplification of life is, in its profoundest bearings, in the interest of the race-life—through the liberation of its nourisher to pursue her divinest tasks with wisdom and joy. And the breaking down of false conceptions of life's innermost force, a franker recognition of the essential purity of sex, will as surely ennoble motherhood and free it from the tragedy which now surrounds it. When women are no longer sent blindfolded into the maternal wilderness, when maternal functions are deliberately chosen with full knowledge of all their attendant responsibilities, motherhood will be glorified as never before and the superman will be born. Sinding's masterpiece is indeed a glorious "sermon in stone."

"A son's a son till he gets a wife; a daughter's a daughter all your life." What do you think? Few will deny that there is a good deal of truth in the words—a son, most truly, does pass entirely out of his parents' hands when he marries; so, seemingly, does a daughter; but you will always find that a son, after marriage, seems to develop into a kind of very near relative, whereas a daughter remains a daughter always.

Perhaps that may be accounted for, so far, by reason of the fact that most young women, after marriage, require their mother's assistance every now and again, while a son, once married, does not, nor yet does he require his father's help, as a general rule.

But, long before a marrying age is reached, a girl seems to develop greater love of home and parents than a boy ever does, and that again may be accounted for by the fact that a girl is more indoors, and more often helps in the household than a boy. It is not too much to assume that a girl, by being always more or less in the society of her mother and within the house, will come to cherish that home and mother more than a boy, whose chief endeavor is to get out of the house and away from his mother as much as possible.

A boy, in short, whenever he reaches the age of nine or ten years, begins to drift away from the home and his mother, while a girl of like years tends quite the other way; she wants to be about the house, and does not desire to be separated from her mother.

When, therefore, it comes to be a question of sovereignty from the old home, a girl feels it more than a boy—hes have to be broken which are all unknown to a boy. Although they are broken, the maid will try to repair them as swiftly as possible. She does this by visiting and keeping up a close connection with the old home and her parents.

Of course, it must not be forgotten that a girl, by nature, is more loving than a boy—a boy, as a rule, is not by any means a loving creature; but a real girl always is. In fact, if a boy finds himself getting a bit loving with his mother, why, he is ashamed of himself; but a girl never fears like that.

Besides, parents do not look for the same depth of love from a boy as they do from a girl, and that, too, may have a bearing on the question. A parent is always ready to encourage a girl to be affectionate, but few attempt to do the same by a boy.

Accordingly the girl, by habit, develops into a far more loving creature than a boy, so far as home and parents are concerned.

We all know about the great devotion frequently shown by a son toward his mother, but it is a question if it is really so strong an affection as that often shown by a daughter toward her father—this latter is sometimes the most beautiful devotion possible, and there can be no question about its reality.

For, O, the Irish eyes of her
They twinkle at ye so.
Ye hate to think the sighs of her,
Are part o' the disguise of her,
So, faix, she has yer penny gathered in before ye know.

ALAMEDA WINS PRIZE BANNER

Largest Percentage of Attendance at the Baptist Rally.

The Young People's Department of the San Francisco Baptist Association held their closing rally of 1906 series at the First Baptist Church, Alameda, Friday evening, January 18.

Supper was served by the ladies of the church to about one hundred and fifty of the delegates from the different societies in San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley and Vallejo.

The banner for largest percentage of attendance at the rally was awarded to the Alameda church, all members of their society being present.

Rev. H. W. Niles, pastor of the Vallejo church, conducted the devotional exercises, after which the address of the evening was given by Rev. George E. Burlingame, pastor of the First Baptist church of San Francisco, on the topic, "The Church to Conquer."

The address was one of the most impressive and forceful of any of those given at these gatherings, and was listened to with great attention.

During the evening a vocal solo was rendered by Mrs. P. J. Schuman and a violin solo by Louis McClellan.

The attendance in point of numbers and of representative men of the denomination, was probably larger than at any preceding rally held about the Bay cities.

BISHOP NICHOLS WILL PRESIDE

Annual Convention of the Diocese of California Will Open Tomorrow.

The annual convention of the Diocese of California opens tomorrow in Trinity church, San Francisco, at 10:30 a. m. Bishop Nichols will preside.

On Tuesday evening will be held the annual missionary mass meeting, the speakers being the Rev. W. R. Hulce of New York and Bishop Nichols.

Wednesday morning will be given to the hearing of reports upon a discussion of diocesan mission work, the afternoon, to the election of diocesan officers for the ensuing year, delegates to the missionary conference to be held in Boise Idaho, and to the general convention to be held in Richmond, Va.

On Wednesday evening Bishop and Mrs. Nichols will receive the convention delegates at the Episcopal residence.

Thursday will be occupied with routine matters and in the evening will be held the annual meeting of the Brotherhood and the Daughters of the King.

The House of Church Women, whose session is held at the same time, will sit with the convention on Wednesday forenoon, when missionary matters are being considered.

Following hard upon the convention will come the pre-Lenten mission. Bishop Nichols was in Oakland yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when he addressed a crowded meeting of the rally who are busily engaged in preparing for the services to be held on this side of the bay at St. John's and the Church of the Advent.

One of the missionaries, the Rev. J. E. Freeman, is expected to arrive today and the other three before next Sunday. All signs point to a large attendance upon these services.

ONE ON ADAM.

Adam felt remorseful after eating the fruit.

"Why did you hand me the apple?" he asked bitterly.

"Because," laughed Eve, tauntingly, "it wasn't convenient to hand you a lemon."

And Adam was so humiliated he went away on a fishing trip.

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH.

"I say," Sanders remarked the summer, "you are getting thin since you retired from business."

"That's right," replied the ex-grocer, "I don't weigh as much as I did."

DR. J. E. ENNIS

Of Atlanta, Ga., Addresses the People of Fall River on a Matter of Health.

"To Whom It May Concern: Of late there has been a good deal of discussion in regard to advertised medicines, their value and power to cure."

"I want to say to the people of Oakland that I believe the most valuable cod liver oil preparation, the best body-builder, health restorer and strength creator known to medicine today is Vinol."

"While Vinol does not contain the system-clogging oil of old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, it actually does contain all the curative medicinal principles of the cod's liver in a highly concentrated form, with tonic iron added, and it is delicious to take."

"I advise Vinol in my practice, and find it has no equal for healing coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and sore lungs."

"I have used Vinol in many cases of indigestion, anti-stimulation, and for patients who were anemic and run-down with splendid results. I have also found Vinol to be a boon to the aged."

"I believe Vinol to be well worthy of any honest physician's endorsement."

We sell Vinol to the people of Oakland on an offer to refund money if it fails to benefit. The Owl Drug Co., Thirteenth and Broadway and Tenth and Washington.

Note.—while we are sole agents for Vinol in Oakland, it is now for sale in the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

SUNDAY BALLOTS SWELL TOTALS OF CONTESTANTS

MISS ETTA HOUESCHILDT entered in TRIBUNE popularity contest

Gratifying Increase Shown All Along Line in Race for Tribune's Popularity Prizes.

The Sunday totals were very gratifying to the several contestants who had worked zealously during the week in securing the necessary subscriptions and votes to make the goal.

While the standings of some of the candidates are the same as they were, they no doubt have been working as earnestly as the rest, but are for some reason holding back their votes.

It is not wise to hold back too many votes, and thus fall too far behind the other candidates.

NAME AMONG FIRST.

If your name stands out among the first your friends make a greater effort in your behalf, and will take more interest in your campaign.

Do not become discouraged and give up the race at this stage of the game, but make the best of the effort, and, if possible, make a success of the undertaking.

Get out among your friends and get enough votes in one day to put all doubt aside as to your ability to win the prize.

START A CAMPAIGN.

Not one of your friends will refuse to subscribe to THE TRIBUNE to help you win the prize, and a good, active campaign among them will help your race if you start now and go down to good hard work among them.

Miss Laura Jorgensen, one of the popular Oakland young ladies, has at last reached the top and taken first honors from Miss McClellan.

Miss Linda Johnson wishes to assure her many friends that she is still in the race for the handsome prize, and will put up a hard fight to win.

UNION MEN STRONGER.

The union men are developing greater strength each day, and their race is proving interesting, as the consideration for a few extra hard ticks in the vote-getting line is worth the effort.

P. D. Doty is making giant strides, as is also "Jim" Bray, another good worker.

P. McKeehan, the popular policeman, is not out of the race by any means, and has several friends who are working for him.

SEPARATED BY ONE VOTE.

John T. Fahy and C. C. Garandness are making a close race, as only one vote separates Mr. Fahy from first place.

Fred Wille is ahead again; M. J. King is second, with Mr. Hallahan third, all making decided efforts to hold first place.

R. T. Welch, J. C. Hickok and A. W. Gunter, of the Alameda-Berkeley letter carriers are shaping things up fine and expect to come to the top before long.

JAMISON LEADS.

Henry Jamison, of Berkeley, holds first honors for the Berkeley policemen contesting for the revolver.

William Huff and A. S. Blunk, of Alameda, are still heading towards the 1000 mark. They are working quickly but surely.

MANNER OF VOTING.

A coupon good for one vote will be given in each issue of The Tribune until the end of the contest. This coupon, if clipped and sent to the Contest Manager of THE TRIBUNE, will count as one vote for the contestant named therein.

There is also another way of securing votes and that is on subscriptions. Votes will be given at all mid-independence subscriptions as follows:

One month, 65c.....25 extra votes
Three months, $1.95.....100 extra votes
Six months, $3.50.....300 extra votes
One year, $7.50.....1000 extra votes

(Cut out this Coupon).

Everyone who loves California should read Marah Ellis Ryan's vivid story of the mission days

FOR the SOUL of RAFAEL

A Romance of San Juan Capistrano

"The story is another proof of the romantic glamour of the life of the old missions and the forces of western history. Mrs. Ryan has entered the classic path with imaginative insight."—The Denver Post.

"One wonders at the color which Mrs. Ryan has put into her romance. Mere words produce seldom so vivid an impression as this great being in which the figure moves and speak and love and fight and dance, and sometimes die."—The New York World.

"In none of her other books is the human quality so beautifully interwoven with the customs and beliefs of a people as in this."—Chicago Saturday Evening Herald.

Five editions—more than 20,000 copies—of this book have been sold since its publication, less than a year ago.

As a souvenir of the California of yesterday, this story has everything to recommend it.

Rarely has a book of fiction been made so attractive. It is printed in two colors, with end-papers and borders in tint. The nineteen full-page illustrations are from a series of remarkable photographs, and are printed in soft brown tones and mounted on a background tint.

PREFERS HOUSEWORK TO TOILING IN A FACTORY

Judge of Superior Court in Chicago Allows Maid to Choose Her Home and Mode of Life.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—This is the story of a little girl who preferred housework to toiling in a factory, and, being denied the right of choice, took her destiny in her own hands.

She succeeded so well that an august judge of the Superior Court refused to give her into the custody of her father, but allowed her to choose her own home and mode of life.

Anna Schroder, daughter of John Schroder, 1024 Twentieth street, is the name of this plucky little girl. Since her mother died, eight years ago, she has lived in the family of Mrs. K. Leonard, 1412 Cornelia street. Until recently she was educated and cared for as Mrs. Leonard's own daughter, although no adoption papers were taken out. Now she is assisting Mrs. Leonard with the housework in the daytime and going to school in the evening. She receives for the work a room, her board, her clothes and $2.50 a week.

Anna has a stepmother who looked with envy at the services rendered by the child.

The idea was that Anna could earn much more money in a factory or would be of great service to the stepmother at home.

The father yielded, and a month ago, Mrs. Schroder appeared at the Leonard home and by threats of bringing the police frightened Anna into accompanying her home.

Then it was that Anna decided to run her own affairs.

She used a woman's weapons. She went and pleaded with her father that she might go back to the home where she had been so happy.

Then she achieved her grand coup.

Under pretense of doing some Christmas shopping, she went downtown, consulted an attorney, paid him a retainer from her savings, and arranged to have him defend her if her stepmother should attempt to get her again.

Then she went home, and, weeping bitterly, induced her father to consent to her going back to Mrs. Leonard's.

The stepmother lost no time in making the father get out a writ of habeas corpus and there was a hearing in Judge Walker's court the other day. Anna's lawyer, E. W. Willing, was on hand to defend her.

Pastor Huyler of the German Lutheran Church, Twenty-first street and Hoyne avenue, which Anna attends, was also present, and other friends crowded the courtroom.

Pastor Huyler praised the little girl, and said that Mrs. Leonard's home was a highly satisfactory place for her.

"Why do you want to stay with Mrs. Leonard?" asked Judge Walker.

"Because I can be a Christian there, and I can't be at home," said little Miss Schroder. "Besides I would much rather do housework in their clean house than work in some dirty old factory, and then I don't believe I could lead a Christian life in a factory."

Judge Walker had previously caused the two homes to be investigated.

When he gave his decision allowing Miss Anna to remain with Mrs. Leonard there were tears of joy in the little girl's eyes and in those of Mrs. Leonard.

The stepmother left the courtroom vowing vengeance.

This picture is from a recent photograph of Mrs. Mabel Judson Cox, who is to become the wife of former Congressman Francis Barton Harrison within the next few days. The marriage is to be celebrated at the United States Consulate Generale at Paris. The first wife of Mr. Harrison was Miss Crocker, of the celebrated California pioneer family, who was killed something over a year ago in an automobile accident on Long Island. Mrs. Cox is the divorced wife of a New York physician.

CHILDREN NOT PROFITABLE TO THEIR PARENTS NOW

The Land Owners, Factory Owners and Merchants Are Benefited by the Increase in Population.

Just picture for a moment a world where land is free and where women vote; where everyone has every conceivable luxury, and where the most lucrative industry is having babies.

Children are exceedingly profitable now, but not to their parents. Land owners, factory owners, merchants, etc., are benefited by increasing population. The patriotism of fatherhood is rewarded by increased taxes, and the good citizenship of motherhood is honored by a more deeply rooted slavery with the advent of each new inhabitant.

That is why the poor slave-mother is better off when some male takes a life contract to provide for her and her precious burdens. Such slavery and such protection are good enough for our present man-made civilization. But try to imagine a social state developed by women for the benefit of women. With the Single Tax in operation, all the immensity of wealth which now goes into private coffers would fill the public treasury. The ground tax, in freeing land, would free labor from the domination of unscrupulous monopolists.

Each man and woman would have a chance to make a glorious living, with much noble leisure in which to enjoy life, study truth and expand in love.

Only those who avoid thinking can maintain that the present social conditions are desirable, for thinkers of the feeblest order must see, at least to some extent, the criminality of making freedom dangerous and bondage preferable.

Under the false system of restricting liberty, children are the greatest sufferers.

They suffer from stupid, inadequate man-made homes; from stupid, prisonlike, man-made schools, and from the stupid, man-made conditions which ignore the children's need of public playhouses and public playgrounds.

The other sufferers are the women, who are persecuted even by well-meaning females for expressing any desire to get out of the confines of the jail-like home, away from the jailer-like mate called husband. A woman will get more protection from a vote one day a year than from a marriage certificate all the year round through all the years of her life. But unthinking persons cannot see that.

Under present conditions the jail-home and the jailer-husband are the best protection for a woman. But we are not oysters, growing fast to rocks, that we must stick to the existing state. We can change our conditions. Why should we not improve our environment?

FADS AND FASHIONS FOR ALL WOMEN

Latest Things in Furs and Clothing for the Fair Sex--Hints and Beauty Talk.

There was a time, and it was not so very long ago, when the fur coat was regarded as the height of extravagance, a thing not to be taken into account save by the very few to whom matters of dollars and cents were of no consequence, says an Eastern fashion writer. The average woman would soon have thought of buying a diamond tiara or an investing in a freakish little jacket of fur, elaborately trimmed and sure to close velvet in one season.

When there was a question of furs something practical and serviceable was bought—a coat warranted to stay in style for years and, with slight repairs, to be wearable winter after winter, even after its cut became a trifle behind the times. A sealskin coat was a sealskin coat in those days.

Now there is no telling what it will develop into if the fashionable furrier has his way concerning it, and the chances are that instead of the proverbial sealskin, a woman will choose some more fabulous fur for her coat. Sealskin is as handsome as becoming, as warm as ever; but for some unknown reason it has not in recent years been considered chic and since its price has soared until it is among the very expensive furs the modish woman is likely to pass it by. A thing has in her mind no excuse for being expensive unless it is supremely smart.

Sable, chinchilla and ermine are the three furs which combine the two requisites of modishness and costliness in the most pronounced degrees, and as a result they are the furs most coveted by all women and most worn by those who can afford to buy them; but the finer kinds of Persian lamb, broadtail and baby lamb are perhaps more extensively worn by fashionable women than any other furs.

The fur of the season, for one may always confidently count upon some one cheap fur being pushed to the front and having a purely arbitrary vogue is pony skin. We have seen this skin before but until this season it has been in evidence chiefly among the motor garments.

Now the dyers and workers in pelts have succeeded in giving pony skin a good black and in making the skin exceedingly soft and pliable, and the furriers have been quick to see the opportunity offered by this improvement.

The firm, smooth skin is excellent for tailoring purposes, and the designers are turning out very smart little coats of rather severely tailored aspect, but brided in smart fashion and following the popular short coat lines. Sometimes there is a touch of embroidered velvet or silk in collar, cuffs and waistcoat, giving a note of contrasting color to the black coat, but on the whole the most attractive of the ponyskin coats are those which retain a decided severity, but are very chic in line and finish.

Mother of pearl, inlaid with gold or silver, is fashionable for the fur coat button, and there are some remarkably attractive buttons in mother of pearl, set in tiny gold rims and apparently hand painted in minute designs of Japanese workmanship. Buttons similar to these, but inlaid rather than painted, are genuine works of art and correspondingly costly.

Chinchilla has increased in price, because of its scarcity, until it is indeed a luxury; but this season it is more fashionable than ever, because it harmonizes so admirably with the gray, which are enjoying so tremendous a vogue. In Paris, chinchilla is conspicuously in evidence. In connection with gray gowns or cloth, velvet, net, etc., the costly fur trims the dress skirt in addition to forming the little coat.

Big buttons of dull silver set with aqua-marines are particularly lovely on chinchilla, and some designers favor greatly for use with the gray fur buttons of dull silver set with coral or with topaz the soft yellow of the latter stone toning in deliciously with the fur.

Face ornaments well with chinchilla, and little coats of the type represented in another of the cuts are many, though details vary. The idea of slashing the short loose bolero and allowing frills of soft lace to show in the slashing and around the edges of the coat is a deservedly popular one, and is used in handling sable and mink as well as with chinchilla.

Mink is, by the way, enjoying a new popularity and is the substitute for sable with those who love a loose little brown fur coat, but cannot afford sable. In a fine, dark quality this fur is exceedingly beautiful, but the cheaper grades though pretty, are not a very profitable investment.

Hudson Bay sable, the natural skin in particular, makes a lovely coat, and the furriers are doing wonderful things this year in the handling of the markings in both sable and mink the natural markings of the fur being made to give beauty to the lines of the coat and speak for the genius of the designer.

Occasionally a coat of mink or of Hudson Bay sable will be trimmed with wide, soft brown silk braid or with embroidered velvet and, in common with all the fashionable little fur coats, the sable and mink coats are likely to have three-quarter sleeves or mere sleeve caps of the fur with undersleeves of net, lace, chiffon cloth or what you will.

Emire short coats are almost always elaborately trimmed in lace, and touches of colored velvet embroidered in color or in gold are likely to enter into the dressy little ermine coat.

As for broadtail it is trimmed in any and every way this season but the "martest" of the little coats and shoulder wraps are broad trimmed and show contrasting color only in a neck finish or in a waistcoat and in the ornamental buttons. Coats of astrakhan are made up as closely as possible upon the broad-tail models and some of these inexpensive little coats really have a great deal of style while the coats of caracul, which also follow the same lines as those of broadtail, are remarkably pretty and as chic as they are charming.

A PLEA FOR LESS KISSING.

Philosophers have much to answer for. Very often they are made to answer for a great deal which never entered their minds. When Plato advocated friendships between men and women, for example, he certainly never contemplated such use being made of his name as was made of it in an English court of law a few weeks ago.

This particular barrister contended that a "friendship" which led to kissing and fondling could fairly be described as "platonic."

The sort of friendship Plato meant—the sort of friendship which has existed often between men and women of exceptional natures and high ideals—is very far removed from the relationship which was shown to have existed in this case.

When a man feels any desired to kiss a woman, or a woman any desire to be kissed by a man, they may safely conclude that they are not merely platonic friends.

It is sometimes argued that kissing may be perfectly harmless. As the Judge quaintly said, it is practised by "parents and children, uncles, aunts, nieces, and so on." But no uncle likes kissing his nieces, and very few aunts want to kiss their grubby nephews. They only do it because it is the custom—and a very bad, silly custom, too.

A kiss is an expression of affection. Its origin is obscure. The most plausible theory on the subject is that uncivilized man, when he desired to show how fond he was of a fellow creature, would pretend to eat that fellow creature. He could not give greater proof of his fondness than by conveying some part of the beloved object to his mouth.

Then, as time went on, people began to discover that the sensation of putting mouths together was pleasant, and so the habit of kissing came into general use. Now we regard it as the "natural" way of showing affection, though it is no more "natural" really than rubbing noses or slapping one another on the back, forms of greeting which exist among savages and barbarians.

No woman ought to be kissed on the lips by any man except the man who is or is about to become her husband. In France girls do not allow their lips to be kissed even when they are engaged. If we were more strict in this matter of kissing, many terrible stories of woman's degradation and shame would never be written.

HAIR OF BRIDEGROOM COSTS HIM HIS WIFE

She Objected to the Way He Combed It and Made Her Escape at the Wedding Feast.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—After she had been married to him, the bride of Meyer Bookman of 216 York street, Jersey City, discovered she never could love a man who combed his hair as the bridegroom did.

The sad facts came out in Bookman's divorce case, which was heard in Special Master Cook's office in Jersey City.

It appears that the happy couple were about to sit down with their friends at the wedding feast when the bride gave a long look at her husband and declared she had made a mistake.

"It's all over," said she. "I can never love a man like that; look at his hair!" Then she fled from the house and returned to her Philadelphia home. The caterer carted the food away and the guests left the scene of the feast that was to have been.

The courtship had been brief, only a week in fact—and it happened that whenever the young woman had seen her suitor with his hat off, the lights were not turned up brightly.

Bookman waited for her to return after her hurried departure from the wedding feast, but she failed to see the light in the window. It is said she never even wrote to him, and now he has asked the courts to free him. In his complaint he neglects to describe the manner in which he combed his hair.

If he ever hopes to marry another girl he says he will do most of his courting with his hat off.

ON NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS.

By NEWELL DWIGHT HILLIS.

Text: Behold this year (shall be thy last) thou shalt surely die.

Important beyond all words are New Year's resolutions when they are vital and life shaping. Vital they would be if one knew that this year would be the last year in one's life. For nothing braces man and helps him to do his best like the time limit. Architects, authors, merchants, builders of houses and railways all do their best under pressure.

Looking forward to his examination day, the student concentrates his thought and gathers wisdom, anticipating the day when his note will be due at the bank, the manufacturer redoubles his energy; knowing that his time limit will soon be up and his forfeit due the contractor gathers himself and encourages his workmen. The statesman anticipates election day, the lover the wedding day, the public official looks forward to his pledge on the day of his inauguration. Every faculty under the stress of an approaching crisis rises unto its best estate.

What vigor a man feels in the hour when he realizes that he has but one more golden year in which to round out his life work! Our New Year's resolutions are in danger of becoming casual, perfunctory and then soon forgotten! But our new resolutions would become as weighty as promissory notes at the bank if a man made them under the influence of the thought "this year may be my last year."

What strength would go into the arm, what energy into the intellect, what resolution into will and purpose, if the time limit were appointed. For once, therefore, let New Year's resolutions be vital—earnest. The potter with soft pressure shapes the clay into the outlines of the beautiful vase. Not otherwise the angel of the New Year, with pressure daily and insistent, can shape manhood into the outlines of an ideal character, portrayed in noble resolutions.

If this year is to be the last we must plan to leave something behind us that will work for us when we are gone. The inventor of a tool can sleep, but his tool toils on. The author who writes a good book leaves a voice that will speak for him, the poet's song will sing for him when he is dead. The reformer's law will work for him when his feet have finished the journey.

That man Peter Cooper's Institute still lives in New York City. The landscape gardener who outlined Central Park and Prospect Park can never die or be forgotten by the grateful multitudes. The man who endows a bed in a hospital will be held in immortal remembrance by those who enjoy his benefactions.

Last year one noble citizen of Brooklyn paid $10,000 to a society to find homes for 400 little children that were left orphaned, and the name of that benefactor will be spoken in grateful love by their children's children.

A good business carries a man's name on. The teacher who organizes herself into her pupils, the social settlement worker who reproduces her ideas in young hearts and plastic lives can never die. Tools may rust and buildings fall, but he who puts himself into childhood can never die. In former years you have squeezed man and spoiled your fellows. This year serve them. Help men. Scatter bounty. Distribute happiness. Sow joys on every side. Carry good will and friendliness in the face. So shall you make this year fulfill the achievements of a score of commonplace years.

There is to be another wedding in the family of the German Kaiser, and the young people whose pictures here appear are the contracting parties. Prince August Wilhelm, fourth son of the Kaiser, is to wed the Princess Alexandra Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein-Sonderburg-Glücksburg. It is among the probabilities that the Prince and Princess may include a trip to the United States as a part of their honeymoon journey.

$65,000

compared with other cities. It is doubtful whether this property could be duplicated in any other city in the United States of like importance for less than $1500 per foot.

STUDY THE MAP OF GREATER OAKLAND

then investigate the many substantial improvements that are being made in this vicinity and in Oakland generally and then decide for yourself what you think this property will be worth one year from today. The ground is fully covered with substantial and almost new buildings of eight stores and forty rooms. There is also a first-class artesian well which will supply water for the entire property. This property is located at the junction of the S. P. local lines, which are to be changed immediately to a modern electric system. We will give $1000 for an option of ninety days to resell this at an advance $10,000.

$40,000

Lot 25 x 100, fully covered with modern improvements, consisting of a store-room with a full-sized cement basement and two floors of apartments under lease at an average of $360 per month for three years. The owner has been offered $460 since making the lease. The building is new, thoroughly well built, located on Eleventh Street, between Webster and Franklin. No district in Oakland is developing any more rapidly than this section. The agent for the Blake & Moffit Estate has been made an offer for a ninety-nine year lease on the property at Eleventh and Franklin, on which it is proposed to erect a large theater. The property we offer here is located only 150 feet distant from this proposed new theater building. The many other improvements that are going on in this immediate vicinity will no doubt bring the value of this property up to $50,000 or $60,000 within ninety days and we would be glad to relist it for sale. No doubt we would be able to sell it at a handsome advance.

$32,500

lot 50x100, on the south side of Tenth street, between Washington and Clay, 75 feet from the property of the Owl Drug Store. The corner next to this on Clay street is held at about double the price of this property. In fact, there is no other property on this street as well located that can be had at anything like this price. We have a short option on it, and if it is not sold in a few days the price will be materially advanced. The improvements are old and of not much value, but are paying about bank interest on the investment at present.

$22,000

Northwest corner of Eighth and Market, 100x125 feet, with two-story-ten-room house. This has long been a business district and has improved very much lately. It is only one block from the S. P. broad gauge station. Market street is a very wide and prominent thoroughfare, and is bound to become a business street from the water front to San Pablo avenue.

$17,500

Lot 75x100 on Fifteenth street near Brush, covered with flats and cottages, bringing a rental of $140 a month. This property is located in a district which is not only very desirable for residence purposes but is so close to the new business center that it has immediate prospects of becoming business property, thereby netting the buyer a very material increase on the investment in addition to the income.

Telegraph Avenue Property

$12,500

has advanced more in the last thirty days than any other property in town. There is a very strong demand for anything on the avenue. We have a lot 30x122½ on the east side of Telegraph, between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth, with a pair of modern flats and a barn, renting for $100 per month. We can sell this now at $12,500. Our contract on this is short. This is only about $300 a foot for the ground and the owner of the lot between Nineteenth and Twentieth streets refused last week $700 a foot for his property there. If that is worth $700 this must be cheap at the price we are asking.

$11,500

Lot 100x100 located in one of the most desirable sections of East Oakland occupied by five new cottages which we will guarantee to rent for a total of $140 per month. We have just completed and sold five others like these which are rented at this figure. This makes a firstclass income property, as the buildings are all new and there will be no expense for repairing for some time.

$10,500

Corner of Eighth and Alice, 50x100, occupied by two substantial cottages rented to Chinese at $80 per month. This is located right in the new wholesale district. These buildings could be raised and a splendid store or warehouse put on the ground floor, thereby making a very valuable property. This price has been made very low in order to have a quick sale, as the owner needs the money for other purposes.

$8,500

Lot 50x125, high-class flat building, two flats, five and six rooms. The owner occupies one at present. The two would rent for $90 per month. This property is located on Elm street between Edward and Thirty-fourth streets, which is a very desirable residence section.

$8,000

On lot 50x134, a new two-story building, consisting of three flats rented at $100. This is located near Thirty-eighth and Telegraph and it is very difficult to find property as well located paying the percentage that this does.

$5,500

Corner 75x75 with two six-room flats and three five-room flats, rented now at $70 per month, which is the old rent, as it has not been raised for several years. This property is in East Oakland, convenient to car line, local train, factories, etc., which give employment to the working people in that district. This property should never be without tenants.

$5,000

Lot 44x122 on Park street, Alameda, only one block from the business center and from the S. P. local station, with three flats of seven, four and three rooms, respectively, which will rent for $75.

$3,000

Lot 33½x75, two-story building, consisting of three flats of five rooms, each rented for $40 per month, located in East Oakland in a desirable renting district.

We have a very large list of residence properties ranging in price from $1700 to $25,000. All properties on our list are under EXCLUSIVE CONTRACT so we know we can deliver them without the price being advanced. Call at our office and see the many residence houses we have for sale and we will have the salesmen drive you out and show you the properties.

KNOWLAND ON LABOR PROBLEM

Letter on Subject Sent to the Vallejo Trades Council.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Congressman Joseph R. Knowland has sent the following letter to the Vallejo Trades and Labor Council:

"House of Representatives U. S., Washington, D. C. January 19, 1907.
"Mr. D. H. Leavitt, Secretary Vallejo Trades and Labor Council, Vallejo, California—My Dear Sir: Before leaving for Panama I communicated with the Trades and Labor Council of Vallejo in answer to certain resolutions passed by your organization, protesting against the employment of Chinese on the Canal Zone. I decided to make a personal investigation of the question, and with that end in view took a two thousand mile trip to Panama during the holiday vacation. Thinking that perhaps your organization may be interested in ascertaining what my impressions are upon returning, I herewith submit a report:

"After a visit to the Isthmus of Panama I am convinced that no citizen of the United States can inspect the work of canal construction now being carried on by our government and fail to experience a feeling of just pride at what has been accomplished in such a remarkably short space of time. Our achievements on the Canal Zone and in Colon and Panama along the line of sanitation alone are worthy of the highest commendation and comparable almost with some notable triumphs of arms. I cannot speak too highly of the class of men, practically all of them American citizens, in charge of the various branches of the work. They are men of ability, with an ambition and a pride to bring the various divisions under their charge to a state of the highest efficiency.

"LABOR PROBLEM.
"We of California visited the Zone primarily for the purpose of investigating the labor problem, with special reference to the employment of Chinese coolie labor. I, for one, return to the United States convinced that the Panama canal can be constructed and constructed as economically and expeditiously, without the employment of Chinese. There is a general sentiment on the Zone, particularly among those who have the most to do with the handling of labor, against the importation of Chinese. The citizens of Panama are also opposed.

"I will admit that the labor problem would be most serious if we were dependent solely upon the negro labor from the nearby tropical islands—Jamaica, Barbadoes, Martinique and the smaller West India islands. These laborers do not equal our southern negroes, lack vitality, do not work steadily, and appear inclined to obtain employment just long enough to supply their bodily necessities.

"NEAR TO SOLVING.
"The labor problem bids fair to be solved, from the testimony of Jackson Smith and others in charge of the division of labor in the Zone, by the laborers now arriving from Spain and Italy known under the general name of Galegos. One of these men is equal to two West Indians, according to the information furnished. They are all twenty cents per hour gold, as against ten cents per hour for the native of the West Indies. These Galegos are contented, give little or no trouble, and, strange as it may seem, are standing the climate better than the native of the tropics. They are arriving at about the rate of one thousand per month, and we were informed that, barring unforeseen complications, there was every assurance that, if needed, at least ten thousand could be obtained. They are coming at the present time about as fast as they can be utilized.

"Practically all the skilled employees are Americans. I did not see a single unskilled American laborer on the Canal Zone. In this connection I will state that I am in favor of our government putting forth a strong effort to obtain American unskilled laborers, particularly in view of a letter, published with the president's recent special message, from Chauncey Shonts of the commission. In answer to an inquiry from President Roosevelt, Mr. Shonts states that the sanitary conditions are such on the isthmus that we would be warranted in extending invitations for unskilled labor from the United States. It is claimed that American laborers will not go to the isthmus. I am inclined to believe that this is a fact owing to the prosperity of the country and the attendant scarcity of labor. But I should like to see a general call made. Suitable places in which to live are being provided, the sanitation has been so scientific and thorough that the danger from sickness is being daily lessened, and, taken altogether, there are many localities in the United States less desirable as a place of residence than the Canal Zone. The eight-hour law applies to all American skilled and unskilled labor on the Canal Zone.

NOT ANNOUNCE IT.
"If American unskilled labor cannot be obtained then let us continue with the Spaniard, Italian and West Indian. Personally, I do not believe we should announce to the world that this grant, nation, after legislating to exclude the Chinese on the ground that this class of labor is a menace to the American workman and his standard of living, cannot curvy to a successful project of the age without calling to our assistance the excluded race. It would be a most humiliating admission, and, what is unquestionably more serious, he seized upon by the very active and persistent opponents of Chinese exclusion to strengthen their position when they argue that the time is now opportune to reverse our policy, throw down the bars and freely admit the Chinese coolie. Very respectfully,

"J. R. KNOWLAND."

BING GONG TONG HEADQUARTERS AFIRE

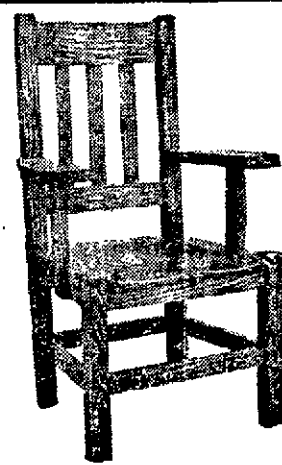

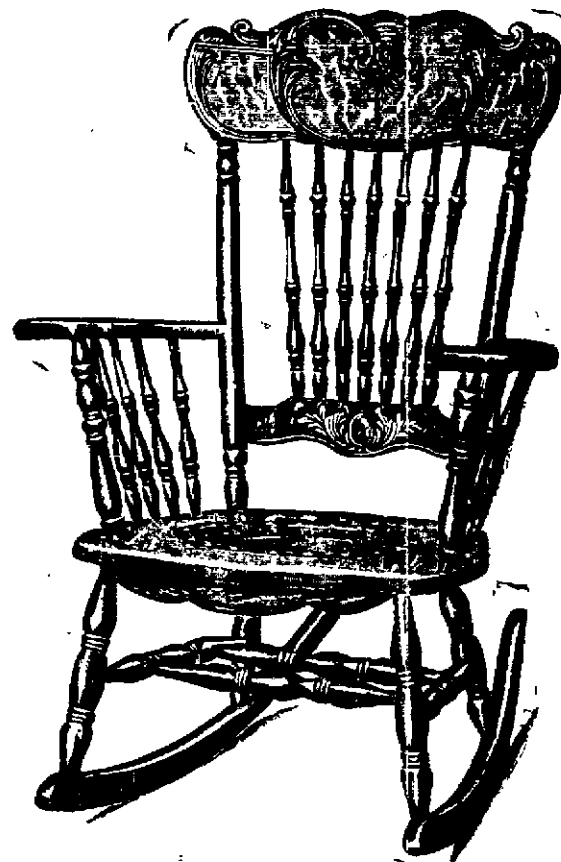

The Bing Gong Tong headquarters, located at 316 Sixth street, was partially destroyed by fire yesterday morning. It is believed the blaze was started by members of the Hop Sing Tong, one of their members, who was murdered in the outbreak last week. The blaze which originated in some bedding in one of the upper bunks, was discovered by Police Sergeant Cockerton, who notified the fire department. The damage amounted to about $200. The house was unoccupied, and had been so for several days, the members of the Bing Gong Tong having taken other quarters after the Tong war.

JANITOR PHILOSOPHER.
"Wimmin do be queer creatures," said the janitor philosopher. "When they have wan trouble they always believe in increasing it to two."
"In what way?" asked the policeman.
"Why, when they discover a new wrinkle they always frown over ut until they get another wan."

New Holland - American S. S. Named

The Holland-America Line has received a cable stating that the new twin-screw steamer now in course of construction for the company at the shipyards of Harland & Wolff, Belfast, will be named "Rotterdam."
This new steamer is of gigantic proportions, being 23,700 tons register, and will have six decks for the accommodation of 600 first and 500 second cabin passengers.
Every inside and outside room on the saloon deck will have an adjoining private bath-room. In addition to spacious and luxurious ladies' boudoirs, reading and writing rooms, conversation rooms, smoke rooms, elevator, etc. She will have as a novelty, a Palm Court, of enormous dimensions and sumptuously appointed on the upper promenade deck. It is expected that the "ROTTERDAM" will be launched in the latter part of this year, and make her maiden trip to New York in April, 1908.
The well-known strengthening properties of iron, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nerve, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body and improve the blood and complexion.
